LAW SCHOOL NOTES

Professor Orrin K. McMurray is absent during the year 1922-1923 as exchange and visiting professor of Law at Columbia University. During the first half of the academic year Munroe Smith as exchange professor is giving a course in the History of European Law and a seminar in Roman Law. Professor Munroe Smith has been for many years professor of Roman Law and Comparative Jurisprudence at Columbia University, and was recently appointed James Bryce Professor of European Legal History. In addition to numerous articles on legal subjects he has written extensively on diplomacy, including works on Bismarck and German Unity and Militarism and Statecraft.

Professor George Purcell Costigan, Jr., has been added as a permanent member of the faculty of the School. Professor Costigan is a graduate of Harvard College and the Harvard Law School. He practiced law for several years at Salt Lake City and at Denver. After teaching for a time at Denver he became professor of Law and later Dean of the Law School at Nebraska, and then professor of Law at Northwestern. He is the author of texts on the Performance of Contracts and on American Mining Law, case books on Contract, Wills, Mining Law and Legal Ethics, and many contributions to legal periodicals, especially in the field of Contracts and Trusts. Professor Costigan is giving the work in Equity, Trusts, Conflict of Laws and Quasi-Contracts.

Robert McNair Davis, professor of Law at the University of Arizona, is visiting professor of Law for the year 1922-1923. Professor Davis studied law at the Harvard Law School and at the University of Chicago, and practiced law in Portland, Oregon. He gave the course in Corporations at the University of California during the Summer Session of 1921. He is now giving Common Law Pleading, Associations and Public Service.

The registration of the School of Jurisprudence is three hundred and twelve, as compared with three hundred and ten in the fall term of 1921-1922. Of this number one hundred and twenty-six students are college graduates, fourteen colleges being represented. Forty-six students are enrolled in the first year of the four-year curriculum, forty-eight in the second year, twenty-nine in the third year and twenty-five in the fourth year. Seventy-eight students are registered in the first year of the three-year curriculum, forty-four in the second year and thirty in the third year. Twelve special students are enrolled; of this number eleven are in the three-year curriculum and one in the four-year curriculum.

SAMPLE BILL ESSAY COMPETITION

The time for the submission of manuscripts for the Jeremiah F. Sullivan prizes has been extended until October 10, 1922. The subject is "Public Policy Grounds Upon Which the Electors of California Should Vote for the Sample Bill." The referendum on the Sample Bill has united the bar of the state in a way that promises well for future usefulness. It is to be hoped that many essays will be submitted, for the competition gives the students an opportunity to participate in a service to the community and to the profession. Further information may be obtained from the Public Welfare Bureau, California Bar Association, at either 928 Pacific Building, San Francisco, or 480 I. N. Hellman Building, Los Angeles.
